Facility Highlights

Augustana Forum

Welcome to the centre of student life on campus — connecting you to study spaces, Vikings games, Monica’s café, our dining hall, library and student services too!

The main floor of the Forum is open and airy, perfect for group gatherings or mingling. Two-storey windows on the west wall frame a clear view of the quad and let in plenty of sunlight. Comfortable couches and three fireplaces invite you to take a breather, and other benches and tables offer additional space for sitting and eating.

The Forum’s open concept allows smooth travel to all the places you need to be — merging student life with student success!

Augustana Forum.

wahkohtowin Lodge

The wahkohtowin Lodge is a meeting and gathering space for our Augustana community. wahkohtowin loosely translates to “kinship” — referring to the interconnected nature of our relationships, our communities, and the land, water and sky. In this space you see the focus on connection.

There are comfortable chairs and tables under the mīkiwahp (tipi) ceiling feature, a flexible classroom space for meetings and seminars and a community space designed with Indigenous culture in mind.

We welcome Indigenous students to access a range of services and connect with other members of the Indigenous community on campus.

Augustana Miquelon Lake Research Station and Hesje Observatory

This field study site is for undergraduate and faculty research, and also serves as an Indigenous gathering space for the Augustana community in one of Canada’s 13 dark sky preserves. It’s home to the U of A’s most powerful telescope and acts as a hub of sustainable research. The station was designed and developed to address a broad spectrum of research questions and learning opportunities.

We call it the Augustana Advantage.

- Study-life balance
- Transferable skill development
- Real-world experience
- Close professor relationships
- Supportive community

WHAT YOUR FIRST YEAR WILL BE LIKE

Your Semester Schedule

FIRST 3 WEEKS: 1 COURSE | NEXT 11 WEEKS: 4 COURSES

Why This Schedule?

This format eases you into university life, giving you more flexibility to be social and make friends before diving into a full course load. It's all about prioritizing community, something we care deeply about here. This format also allows for activities that do not easily fit within a traditional semester structure – like experiential learning opportunities abroad, outdoors or in the surrounding community.

Get the Skills You (and Your Future Employer) Are Looking For

- We ensure students graduate with broad knowledge – you'll use a range of approaches to solve problems.
- All students complete our four Project-Based Core courses during their degree to tackle relevant societal problems, develop creative solutions and build career connections.

Augustana's Project-Based Core

-  1st YEAR: FIRST-YEAR SEMINAR
Small classes developed to create community and introduce you to studying at a university.
-  2nd YEAR: DISCIPLINARY AND COLLABORATIVE LEARNING
Build your resume by learning how to work in teams, delegate, collaborate and manage working relationships.
-  3rd YEAR: COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIP PROJECT
Work in teams to plan and deliver solutions to meet the needs of local businesses and organizations.
-  4th YEAR: ADVANCED INTEGRATION PROJECT
Work in a team to propose your own project to solve a pressing social problem.

Augustana's three-week courses are an excellent way for students to learn outside the classroom. My first course at Augustana was Wolves: Representations and Realities. We learned about wolves' complex place in ecosystems as a keystone species, such as how our depictions of wolves in the media affect our perception of them. We also got to visit the Yamnuska Wolfdog Sanctuary – a rescue for illegally bred wolfdogs."

I chose Augustana Campus over North Campus primarily due to its distance away from home, making the overall experience more convenient. Another compelling factor in my decision was the appeal of smaller class sizes and a more personalized teaching approach by professors. The emphasis on tailored instruction at Augustana was a key selling point for me, ultimately influencing my choice of the University of Alberta's Augustana Campus.”
