LEADERSHIP CERTIFICATION

Any teacher can obtain the leadership certification by completing approved leadership coursework. Teachers may complete the coursework at any time. They must meet all the requirements before being granted a leadership certificate, including holding an Alberta permanent professional teaching certificate.

COURSES

Completion of the following two courses meets the academic requirements for principal certification in Alberta:

EDU 520 Theoretical and Professional Foundations of School Leadership

Explore the foundational dimensions of school leadership including instructional leadership, fostering effective relationships, supporting the application of foundational knowledge about Indigenous Peoples, visionary leadership, leading learning communities, modelling continuous professional learning, developing leadership capacity, understanding the social context influencing schooling, and managing school operations and resources.

EDU 521 School Leadership: Theory and Practice

(Prerequisite: EDU 520)

Hone leadership practices grounded in research to demonstrate mastery of Alberta's Leadership Quality Standard (LQS). Includes a job-embedded learning component in which participants visit, observe, and collaborate with one other school leader or leadership team in a school setting of their choice, in which the Alberta Program of Studies is offered.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

These courses can be taken as an open studies student, as an elective in a graduate program (in consultation with your program advisor), or as required courses in the Graduate Certificate in School Leadership, which can ladder into a Master's degree.

To optimize your learning experience, we recommend that you have a minimum of two years of teaching experience.

Courses are taught online with some synchronous components

Applications are open throughout the year. You can begin studies in Fall, Winter, Spring and Summer semesters pending sufficient course enrollment.

Note: While aspiring school leaders from other parts of Canada or the world will find value in the courses, the curricular context is Alberta.
